The claim is as follows: "the ratio of a person's height to the height of his/her navel is roughly the golden ratio. We are not told why this is significant; the navel is a scar of no great importance in an adult human being" (Markowski 15). This is another instance of what Markowski calls the "Pyramidology Fallacy" (15)—sure, the golden ratio may be present in something, but that does not necessarily imply that it is significant.
