Teaching young students how to speak is the most important area of learning. The best practice embeds speaking and listening across all aspects and areas of their education. Students use speaking and listening to solve problems, speculate, share ideas, make decisions and reflect on what is important. Social relations in the classroom depend on talk, and students' confidence and attitudes to learning are affected by friendships and positive interaction.

Teaching listening skills to students doesn't have to be boring, where the students just have to sit in their seats and listen to the teacher talk. There are many classroom activities to create engaging lessons that will help students focus on their listening skills.

"Every student needs top class listening and speaking skills to succeed at an academic level. 'Skillful' focuses on these two skills to give presentation, instant practice, and complete immersion in those language skills. It offers students the opportunity to develop language skills by presenting them with ideas from today's world, while building critical thinking skills that are vital for academic success. This is taken even further with a focus on study skills, providing students with practical guidance and support, and building confidence for independent learning throughout their university career."--Editor.
